

Enterprise Vibe Engineering Platform

Transform ideas into working software with natural language prompts. Deploy production-ready applications in minutes, fully governed and aligned to enterprise standards, security, and architecture.

HCL Mosaic Vibe Studio

What You Can Deliver with HCL Mosaic Vibe Studio

Standardize & control approvals

Replace fragmented approvals with structured, policy-driven workflows that are visible and auditable.

Build apps for: Approvals, Onboarding workflows, Compliance processes.

Impact: faster decisions, reduced compliance risk, full traceability

Digitize & scale business processes

Shift from manual coordination to guided workflows that define how work gets done, with clear ownership, logic, and progress tracking.

Build apps for: Service workflows, Request management, Internal operations.

Impact: faster execution, fewer errors, higher productivity

Turn data into real-time operational visibility

Replace static reports with live, role-based access apps powered by connected enterprise data.

Build apps for: Dashboards, Reporting, Operational tracking.

Impact: better decisions, improved agility, single source of truth

Unify the enterprise application landscape

Bring together data and functionality from multiple systems into unified applications used by enterprise teams.

Build apps for: Integration apps, Frontline apps, multi-system applications.

Impact: reduced system fragmentation, lower integration overhead, consistent user experience

From Prompt to Production in Minutes

- Describe requirements in natural language
- Generate UI, logic, and data models instantly
- Refine with guardrails, rules, and integrations
- Deploy as production-ready applications

Built for Enterprise Scale and Control

Security & Privacy

Code scanning, CI/CD, role-based access, and enforced architecture guardrails.

Prompts, IP, and generated code remain private and are never used to train public models.

Governance & Control

Style guides, lint rules, and explainable outputs ensure consistency.

End-to-end traceability, guardrails, and auditability across the lifecycle.

Integration & Data

HCL Volt MX Foundry provides authentication, backend integration, orchestration and enterprise scalability across systems and data sources

Schemas and data models are auto-generated from application intent.

Extensibility & Experience

ReactJS based apps with built-in UI standards, themes, and accessibility for consistent UX.

Backed by engineering services to standardize delivery, accelerate rollout, and modernize legacy applications.

Enterprise Impact at Scale

Reduced operational risk

Applications align to enterprise security, governance, and architecture standards by default.

Scalability without fragmentation

Extend and evolve applications without rework or fragmentation as needs grow.

Accelerated time to value

Applications move from idea to usable systems in a fraction of the time

Lower total cost of ownership

Fewer tools, reduced integration effort, and lower maintenance overhead across the portfolio

Currently in the Early Access Program (EAP), HCL Mosaic Vibe Studio will soon reach General Availability as a core part of the HCL Mosaic platform. We're reimagining how enterprises build software with AI, and we're just getting started.
